WEIL

The global social, economic and ecological crisis we face is a crisis of consciousness, with solutions that also reside there. Human imagination can lift the world into a future of sustainable peace and ecological abundance, but only by transforming how we think and act on earth. This retreat brings together the most progressive thinkers of our time in a retreat blending holotropic breathwork, a powerful process for transforming consciousness, with practical training in leadership skills designed to integrate insights and transform society. Featuring creative role-play, community relationship building, meditation and integrative breath exercises, become empowered to be the change you wish to see in the world. For leaders, healers and activists.

TUITION: $635 CDN, (meals & accommodation extra), 5 nights

M. Scott Johnson is a seasoned ecologist, writer, Senior Outreach Representative for Defenders of Wildlife, and activist-counsellor who lectures extensively for Al Gore's Climate Project.

Dr. Stanislav Grof is a pioneer in consciousness research and originator of Holotropic Breathwork. They are joined by guest speaker Dr. Andrew Weil, a botanist and best-selling medical authority on Integrative Healing. www.holotropic.com www.defenders.org
